THE FRAGRANCE L'OBJET

Interiors brand L'Objet has launched a debut collection of home fragrances, Parfums de Voyage. Using 100% natural oils and essences sourced from around the world, three signature fragrances have been created: The Russe (No. 75), Mamounia (No. 28) and Jasmine d'Inde (No. 6). True to the brand, the candles are beautifully designed, with illustrations by artist Gildo Medina, and look almost too lovely to burn. £65, l-objet.com

THREE OF A KIND

Design technology seems to have entered a time machine. Products are more technologically advanced than ever, but design-wise, we're seeing a pared-back aesthetic, with a less-is-more approach. Here's our pick of the retro pack.

The new P5 wireless headphones from Bowers & Wilkins offer unrivalled hi-fi sound and luxurious comfort while being completely wire-free for music on the move. As simple in design as they are in functionality, they connect to your smartphone, tablet or computer via Bluetooth, and offer a smart and timeless tech-investment. £329.99, bowers-wilkins.co.uk

Punkt. goes back to basics with their MP 01 Mobile Phone, designed by British industrial designer Jasper Morrison. The Swiss technology company focuses on creating products that simplify modern life and the MP01 will do just that, with users limited to just two functions: calling and text messaging. It's durable, too, made with the highest quality materials, with camera-paint finish and a screen of thin yet damage-resistant Gorilla Glass. £229, punkt.ch

The Kilburn portable active stereo speaker is a chic home accessory with a compact design and vintage style. But it's also one of the loudest in its class and can play through a stereo or via Bluetooth for up to 18 hours. £219, marshallheadphones.com

THE CAR ASTON MARTIN DB9 GT

The British car manufacturer has recently been voted the UK's coolest brand. With the arrival of the sleek DB9 GT, it is easy to see why. With its Bang & Olufsen sound system with pop-up speakers, six-speed automatic gearbox, and top speed of 183mph, it's not just a Grand Tourer, but a force to be reckoned with. There's a smooth Alcantara-wrapped steering wheel, carbon-fibre tail inserts and 20-inch alloy wheels – Bond fans can celebrate the release of the new film Spectre by bagging one of 150 limited-edition models with 007 extras. This beauty is a gentleman of the road, and a well-heeled one at that, with a price tag around £140,000, astonmartin.com

THE BAG
ASPINAL X
ÉTRE CÉCILE

"I love the idea of taking something grown up, classic, serious and messing it up, having fun, taking it to an unexpected place," says Yasmin Sewell, co-founder of Étre Cécile, who has collaborated with Aspinal for their AW15 collection. The range of bags and accessories has the style and sophistication of Aspinal with a young and vibrant twist. Bold colour-blocking and 1990s-inspired graphics bring a breath of fresh air to Aspinal's classic hero bags, including the Mayfair, mini trunk clutch and rucksack, as well as notebooks and accessories in calf, rubberised and soft nappa leather, making them a must-have addition to your autumn/winter wardrobe.
